

Moderation Charter

The OACPS R&I Programme reserves the right to hide or delete upon review any comment or content deemed inappropriate on its InnovationXChange platform. In some cases, dependent on frequency, scale or content posted, the OACPS R&I Programme reserves the right to 'ban' or 'block' users from posting.

Inappropriate comment or content may include:

- Abusive or hurtful comments
- Comments that use inappropriate language or hate speech (based on colour, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion, or sexual orientation)
- Personal or organisational attacks, threats or defamatory comments
- Inappropriate language or graphic imagery
- Off-topic, redundant or repeated comments
- Content, comments or imagery that violate copyright or disclose confidential information

Users posting or disseminating comments and content as listed above will receive an email notification asking them to comply with user conditions or have their account suspended. Failure to do so will result in permanently deleting the user's account.

However, since contributions published by users are immediately posted online and subsequently checked by the moderator, the InnovationXChange platform cannot guarantee the legality, probity or quality of contributions published on its website.

All opinions expressed on the InnovationXChange platform represent the thoughts of the users, and not those of the OACPS R&I Programme. Therefore, their contributions are placed under their sole responsibility.
